

THE PADUCAH DAILY SUN.

VOLUME 1—NUMBER 233

PADUCAH, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 9, 1897.

TEN CENTS A WEEK

WITH ALL ON BOARD.

Two Vessels Collide in Mid Ocean and Sink.

A BATCH OF APPOINTMENTS.

The President Takes His Departure for Nashville.

A BLOODY AFFRAY AT ALBANY, KY.

London, June 9.—A French schooner which arrived here this morning reports that two steamships collided off the Lizard and that they sank almost immediately with all on board, not a passenger or man escaping. Nothing is yet known as to the identity of the vessels or the number of souls on board. The report has caused a feeling of intense uneasiness to pervade the community, as one knows whether absent friends may not have been on one of the ill fated vessels.

THE PRESIDENT

Takes His Departure At Noon For Nashville.

Washington, June 9.—President McKinley and party, according to program, departed at noon by special train for the Tennessee Centennial at Nashville.

Before leaving the President tendered the Spanish mission to Ex-Governor Cox, of Ohio. It is not yet known whether he will accept. En route to Nashville, the President will speak and receive at Frankfort, tomorrow evening.

No Kentucky appointments will be made until Monday. The following appointments were announced just before the departure of the President: H. L. Wilson, Minister to Chili; A. J. Lerschman, Minister to Switzerland; J. F. Govey, Consul to Kanawha, Japan; W. H. Powell, Minister to Haiti. This last is the position for which Rev. Smith (colored), of Owensboro, was an applicant.

TWO MEN KILLED.

In a Neighborhood Row at Albany, Kentucky.

Albany, June 9.—A neighborhood quarrel here resulted this morning in a tragedy, two men losing their lives. Ed Shootman was fatally stabbed by Tom Foster and Foster was shot to death by Eph. Abell while in the act of cutting Shootman. There is great excitement over the affair as all the participants were men of considerable prominence.

THE HAWAIIAN TREATY.

Failure of the Republican Caucus to Act Causes Much Comment.

Washington, June 8.—The failure of the Republican caucus today to take steps looking to the protection of the Hawaiian reciprocity treaty has caused considerable comment, but the friends of Hawaii in the Senate say that the omission was due to no other reason than the want of sufficient time. They feel confident that if the point had been reached an amendment similar to that proposed by Senator Davis continuing the treaty in force would have been accepted. They base this assertion upon the manner in which Senator Frye's speech was received and the side remarks made upon the subject. They now express the utmost confidence that the Finance Committee will accept the amendment without caucus action. Senator Frye's speech was a zealous appeal for the maintenance of the treaty. He said that Pearl Harbor was ceded to the United States in exchange for the concession to Hawaiian sugar by this country, and declared that its abrogation at this time would be an act of bad faith.

AFTER TWO YEARS

Conductor John Wheedon Finds the Button.

Lost It at Memphis and It is Now Worn By a Policeman.

Two years have elapsed since Conductor John Wheedon, the handsome Illinois Central ticket puncher, lost his "Owl" button. It was perhaps the only button of that pattern in the country, being like most other buttons worn by members of the Owls, except that it was set with diamonds for eyes and had jewels in several other places. The number was 56, and the gaudy owner grieved greatly over its loss, and never expected to see it again, not even knowing the city in which it was lost.

He learned today, however, that it is being worn by a policeman in Memphis, who was presented with it by a newsboy. The boy picked it up on the street, and crossing over to the officer on the other side of the street, and asking if it was not a secret or lost button, gave it to him.

The button was evidently first found by some one who is turn lost it, the newsboy having picked it up more recently.

THE TARIFF BILL.

Raw Cotton Placed on the Dutiable List.

SEVERAL DEMOCRATS SAY YES.

The Amendment Provokes a Spirited Debate.

NO ACTION YET ON HAWAIIAN TREATY.

Washington, June 8.—By the decisive vote of 42 to 19 the Senate today adopted an amendment to the tariff bill placing raw cotton, the great product of the South, on the dutiable list, at 20 per cent. ad valorem. It is the first time in the history of tariff legislation that a duty on cotton has been incorporated in a bill. The amendment was proposed by Mr. Bacon (Dem., Ga.) on his individual responsibility, and without the approval of the Finance Committee, which thus far has been requisite to the success of every amendment except a minor one which went through by default.

The amendment led to a spirited debate, Democratic Senators disclosing a wide difference of views, and at times exchanging sharp personal criticisms.

On the final vote six Democrats, Bacon and Clay, of Georgia; McEnery, of Louisiana; McLaurin and Tillman, of South Carolina, and Rawlins, of Utah, voted with the Republicans for the Bacon amendment, while the negative vote was solidly Democratic with one exception, Kyle, Populist. The debate on cotton took up the most of the day, and but little progress was made on the bill.

In the course of his prayer on the opening of the Senate, the acting chaplain, Rev. Hugh Johnson, invoked a speedy return of contentment and prosperity, and that the condition of the poor and suffering may be ameliorated by the great measures before Congress.

Schedule G, relating to agricultural products and provisions, was then taken up.

Mr. Jones (Ark.) moved to strike out the first five paragraphs relating to live animals, cattle, hogs, horses, mules and sheep, and substitute a provision covering all live animals, at 20 per cent. ad valorem. Rejected 22 to 38.

WATCHMAN PARALYZED.

George Haneline Came Near Dying on the Osborne.

Was Brought to the City and Taken Home Last Night.

George Haneline, of Ninth and Trumble streets, watchman on the I. C. transfer boat Osborne, was suddenly paralyzed at Brooklyn last night, and for awhile it was thought he would die.

He was placed aboard the Dick Fowler when she reached Brooklyn and brought to the city, where he received medical attention. Today he is better.

S-O-T WAS INNOCENT.

And a Grave Charge Against Him Was Quashed.

The case against Isaac Scott, colored, charged with stealing some clothing from two bell boys at the Palmer House, was tried in Judge Sanders' court this morning and dismissed.

Scott proved that he bought the clothes from a second hand dealer, but the latter could give no description of the man who sold them to him.

Mr. Jas. G. Grimes has been appointed flusterer and he respectfully requests persons not to throw lemon peels and bananas in the gutters, as he intends to keep everything clean, and anyone so doing will be warranted.

BICYCLE TRACK.

The Cycle Club Voted to Accept the Proposition.

It Will Be Built at Once—Its Dimensions.

The newly organized Paducah Cycle Club met at Elks' Hall last night and virtually settled the track question by the acceptance of a proposition from the Paducah Street Railway Company. The company agrees to furnish ground, grandstand and electric lights, and give $57.20 and the club accepted the proposition.

The plat of the track was drawn by City Engineer Wilcox. The location will be on the left hand side of the Broadway pike, going out.

The dimensions are as follows: Front stretch, 30 feet; end and turn, 25 feet; back stretch, 20 feet; eight foot embankment, one foot center. The stretches will be 300 feet long; curves, 360 feet long. The total width of track, 276.6 feet; length, 582.6 feet.

Work will begin at once. The grand stand is to be built on the hill near by, facing the east. The track is to be equipped with electric lights, but not until August, when the contract with the La Belle Park Stock Company expires.

County Judge Tully offered the Cycle Club, free of charge, a room for meeting purposes back of his office on Legal Row, which was thankfully accepted.

DANGEROUS DARKIES.

Six Fights at Brooklyn in One Day.

One Man Shot But Not Seriously Hurt.

If Brooklyn, Ill., were in Georgia, the old saying that "Hell's broke loose in Georgia" could be revived. Brooklyn is full of colored tie carriers, who yesterday received their pay.

They began flooding the town with their money and flooding themselves with the meanest whiskey they could find.

Yesterday morning there were three fights, one of which was between Horace Landers and another colored man. Landers was taken before court and fined for being drunk and disorderly, but made a break for liberty and Marshal Grimes was compelled to shoot him. He was hit once in the leg and once in the back, but both bullets lodged barely beneath the skin, and were cut out with little difficulty. Landers was out walking about last night and today, despite the fact that both yesterday's "News" and today's "Register" had him killed.

Last night there were three more fights among the colored people, but no one was hurt. The indications today, according to reports, were for more fights.

UNCLE SAM

Will Attend to This Booby Reptile.

A Man With Many Names Arrested.—Wanted at Louisville.

Jas. Cassidy, alias Spencer, alias Stephens, alias Chas. McNabb, the tramp wanted by the government authorities for stealing a barrel of whiskey from the I. C. freight depot at Louisville in April, was arrested here yesterday afternoon by Officers Harlan and Wheelis.

Marshal Wilson, of Princeton, as stated in yesterday's "Sun", traced the fugitive to the city, and arrived here at noon yesterday to take charge of him.

Cassidy was arrested in Louisville shortly after the theft, but was released on a bond that developed to be worthless. He fled to Cincinnati, thence to Evansville, and wound up not long since in Princeton as assistant in an undertaker's establishment, coming here Monday while drunk.

Marshal Wilson left on the 8 o'clock train with Cassidy and will merely stop off at Princeton a few minutes. The prisoner did not know the officer knew anything about his being wanted in Louisville, but thought he was to be taken to Princeton on a charge of drunkenness.

GUN CLUB

Is Unable to Secure Practice Grounds.

The Paducah Gun Club has not yet succeeded in finding practice grounds for the season. A crowd of them went down on the river bank not long since to practice, but were promptly told by the man put in charge of the property by the Illinois Central, which owns it, that they should wait until they were invited to shoot there, and they had to retire.

They may locate at La Belle park for the summer. They thought of securing grounds at Rowlandtown, but the only available site was the baseball park, and the management decided that the "clay pigeons" when broken, would ruin the ground.

Children's Day.

Next Sabbath will be Children's Day in the Cumberland Presbyterian church.

DEAD EASY

Was That Tennessee Team Yesterday Afternoon.

THE SCORE WAS 11 3.

Another Game and Two Games Tomorrow Afternoon.—Baseball Gossip.

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE GAMES.

The morning paper did the Nashville boys a gross injustice in saying they were "on their uppers." There are two cities hot after the club, Decatur, Ill., and Owensboro, Ky., but the league has given Nashville five days in which to put up a bonus that they will pull through the season. There are a great many in Nashville who want to keep the club, and it is probable that the requisite steps will be taken to retain it. In case she does not, however, Decatur's chances almost insure her the club.

The boys are in good trim, and while they put up a bad game yesterday, so did Paducah. All the club that was here before is here now, except three. These are Cleve, the catcher, who went over to Detroit for a good salary, Dillard, the left fielder who is now with Wilkesbarre, Pa., and Brott, who is manager of new team at Jackson, Tenn. Dillard is the man with a batting record, and was the heaviest hitter in Central League.

Yesterday's game between Nashville and Paducah was totally devoid of "ginger," and both sides, seemingly, played in a listless, indifferent manner. This may be accounted for in various ways, but one of the principal reasons was that the attendance was so small. Both pitchers were batted all over the field, but the fielding was good.

Three home runs were made by Paducah, by Murray, Stanton and Woodcock, the latter making the circuit on an error. Each side had two double plays to its credit. Pears pitched for Paducah and Noonan held down first base, Sudhoff going to right field. There was no enthusiasm, and the score was 11 to 3.

Today Dowling and Petty will pitch and tomorrow Sudhoff will probably pitch both games for Paducah, while Petty will pitch the last for Nashville.

Tomorrow is ladies' day and the crowd will no doubt be large. Today's crowd is much larger than yesterday.

IRA B. RITTER

Will Be Taken Back to Illinois Tonight.

TENNESSEE PAPERS NO GOOD.

Chicago Officers Are Expected to Arrive After Him This Afternoon.

QUITE AN INTERESTING CASE.

Judge Bishop decided the habeas corpus case of Ira B. Ritter at 6:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the victory being won by Ritter and his Attorney, Col. R. T. Lightfoot, so far as the Jackson, Tenn., case is concerned. In the Illinois case, however, Ritter was ordered to jail to be turned over to Officer Elliott, of Chicago, when he arrives. A requisition was already here, and all necessary in this case was to establish the identity of the prisoner, who admitted himself that his name was the same as that in the requisition, and that he was the one accused therein. Had he not done this the authorities would have been unable to establish the fact that he was Ira B. Ritter, the man wanted at Chicago, and Ritter would have gone free. His admission was very thoughtful, and deprived him of the liberty he sought. While it is known that Ritter is the man wanted at Chicago, the law is very strict and it would have been impossible to prove yesterday that he was.

In the Tennessee case Judge Bishop said that before Ritter could be sent to jail for sixty days to await a requisition, it must be shown that a prosecution was pending against him in the state in which he was wanted. The law in Kentucky, he said, is different from that in any other state, and the fact that a prosecution is pending in the other state, and that the accused is a fugitive therefrom, must be fully proven by a verified warrant or an exemplified indictment, and in addition an affidavit from the prosecuting witness containing the facts expected to be proven.

The commonwealth had no proof that the warrant in the possession of Marshal Collins against Ritter, purporting to have been issued at Jackson, Tenn., for obtaining money by false pretenses, was genuine, although it did have a certificate that the officer who purported to have issued it was a regularly acting justice of the peace. In short, the authorities here failed to prove that a prosecution is pending against Ira B. Ritter in Tennessee, to the satisfaction of Judge Bishop.

Ritter, as will no doubt be recalled, is wanted at Jackson, Tenn., for obtaining money by false pretenses, and in Chicago for embezzling $2200 while a constable. He will be carried to Chicago as soon as the Officer arrives.

WRITTEN AT RANDOM.
Mike Woodcock, the lively little shortstop of the Paducah baseball club, is a vaudevillian. How or why Mike acquired the skill he possesses is entirely immaterial to this story.

He and several other members of the club board at a North Side fashionable boarding house. Several nights since he displayed his linguistic ingenuity in a most unexpected manner and at the same time furnished fun for quite a number of other boarders. Several were eating supper, among them Woodcock, only a short distance away from a table seated at which were several ladies.
Recently one of the ladies heard her name called, as if by some one on the outside. She thought she might be mistaken, and turning to the other ladies asked them if they didn't hear some one call her. They were not certain either, so they sat in silence until the name was announced again, this time quite distinctly. Taking a few hurried bites she jumped up, and going outside made inquiry of all the other boarders, separately and collectively, if they had called her. She was decidedly puzzled to receive each time a negative answer.

"It's a sure thing, I'm going to die," was the solemn announcement she made as she returned to her seat at the table and resumed supper. The boarders ate on without a smile, and the ladies laughed at the superstition of their companion.

Soon the name of another was called, and she began to take a more serious view of the situation. But supper could not wait, and besides, the forty ventriloquist had had enough fun for one night, so she explained the matter and set at rest all fears and solved the mystery of the unknown voice.

Dr. J. G. Brooks, who went to Philadelphia last week to attend the semi-centennial of the American Medical Association, and to visit his old friends, after an absence of thirty years, found that but two of the faculty at the college where he graduated are alive today. These are Dr. W. N. Keene and Dr. J. M.
DeCosta, both eminent men in medicine and surgery, and who have been day among the most prominent men in America. They were glad to see their old friend, and gave him the warmest welcome, and gave him the city in the Quaker City. There were but two of the original members of the association present at the semi-centennial, the only remaining two present at its organization fifty years before having become too feeble to travel.

"I'd like to get a shave in here right quick," he said as he rushed in to a Broadway barber shop and found all the chairs occupied.

"What are you in such a hurry for this afternoon?" inquisitively inquired the barber, who had just begun his victim.

"Going to the ball game," was the proud reply. "Told the boss I was sick and had to go home and the boss said he'd believe me. He'd been where I'm going he wouldn't do a thing but raise a fuss. He's an un-generous old cuss, anyhow, and it does me a lot of good to give him the worst of it."

"Turn on the hot water, Jim," shouted the barber in the next chair, who was just putting the finishing touches to the man he had just shaved. When the face became visible, the man behind it was no other than the "boss." He glanced benignly at the young man waiting for him.

a shave to enhance his beauty at the barber game, but the young man had found something much more interesting in the paper that suddenly attracted his attention. The barbers took in the situation, and the "un-generous old cuss" paid his bill, and left the barber shop, still working for him, however.

The small boy of this epoch is as interesting a character as the fig-leaved girl we read of "about a cent ago." He is as smooth as an article as you could wish to find.
You can't believe half he tells you and he doesn't believe half you tell him. He usually spends his time Sunday going to Sunday school in the morning because he has to, and to the ball in the afternoon because he wants to, and you can't believe half he tells you.

The little son of a well known county official asked his father a question the other day of two to take him to the ball game. "Dad, I've got a lot of things to do, but I'll go with you if you will," he said. "I'll go with you if you
will," he said. "I'll go with you if you will," he said.

A Prize Puzzle

Any one finding the meaning of this ad shall receive, by calling upon us, three of our Chilling Capsules. Three doses will break the chill; only a few more will cure permanently. They are something new, and simply immense. They have never failed, and are guaranteed. They don't make you sick like sweet syrups do. Only one objection—they increase your grocery bill. U can have one trial at the puzzle.

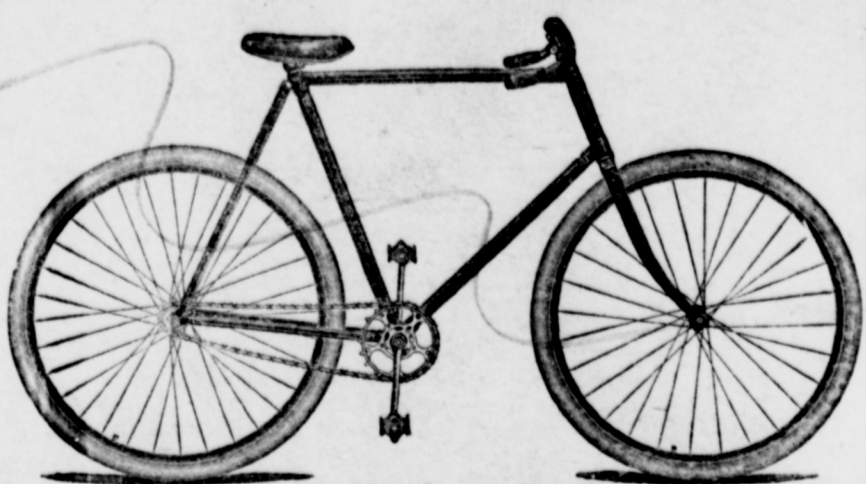

P. S.—The prizes will be given away until June 5, 1917.
